The Library Promotion Group is filled with capable students that range from years 2-7. These students had to submit an application via e-mail, or interview or letter. Mr. Noack chose the students who he believed were up for the job and who he could rely on.

The Library Promotion Group has two student leaders. In 2011 they are Julia Khammash and Anoushka Singh, both Year 7 students. We are also training Alyssa Soole and Jayden Ayling as candidates for assistants for 2011.

The role of the Library Promotion Group is to help promote the library by organizing activities held in the library such as; promoting new books, book week activities, announcing things at the weekly assemblies, creating web pages and reviewing books.

A great way for students to help each other while learning new things in the library.

The Library Promotions Group are also responsible for setting up the library for the classes to use. The morning session turns on the computers and tidies up the library. The afternoon session shuts down the computers and tidies up the library at the end of the day.
